AGREEMENT WITH PROGRAMMING POLICIES

Summary of the Programming Policies of Cambridge Community Television

1. I understand that there are policies regarding charges for program production with significant non-CCTV uses, programming which requires more than the normally allocated amounts of equipment/facilities use, and programming which is grant-supported or commercial in nature.
2. I understand that CCTV does not distribute programming that does not meet minimal technical standards. See the Program Distribution Agreement for requirements.
3. I agree to obtain all releases, licenses, or other necessary clearances from any and all individuals or organizations as may be needed to produce and/or distribute programming for CCTV's platforms.
4. I will be thoroughly familiar with the nature of the material of any programming I submit for distribution and take full responsibility for its content. Distribution of all programming may be preceded by disclaimers indicating that legal responsibility for program content lies with the producer and not with CCTV, nor the City of Cambridge, nor the cable provider.

Distribution of the following is prohibited by CCTV:

Content not protected by the First Amendment of the U.S. Constitution: Programming that does not fall under constitutionally protected speech and raises serious risk of liability on the part of CCTV. This may include, but is not limited to: libel, slander; unlawful invasion of privacy; sedition (advocacy of violent overthrow of the government); or obscene material. Obscene material as determined by the courts is material which: to the average person, applying contemporary community standards, taken as a whole, appeals to the prurient interest; depicts or describes sexual content in a patently offensive way; and taken as a whole, lacks serious literary, artistic, political, or scientific value.

Commercial content: Programming that contains advertising, promotion of the sale or price of any product or service, commercial calls to action or inducements to buy, and business contact information in the form of addresses, phone numbers, and websites. Exception: Non-English programming may contain commercial content when distributed solely on channel 96.

Copyrighted content: Programming that contains copyrighted content without releases, licenses, or other necessary clearances from copyright holders and/or those appearing in the production.

Distribution of the following may be limited by CCTV:

Potentially objectionable content: CCTV reserves the right to limit distribution of programming if it contains potentially objectionable content including, but not limited to: strong, coarse language, intensely suggestive dialogue, or coarse indecent language; intense sexual situations or explicit sexual activity; most forms of nudity; intense or graphic physical violence or degradation; or graphic depiction of medical procedures. Limitations may include, but are not limited to: restricting times to be shown on its channels and webstreams, and restricting availability on its VOD platforms and social media.

5. CCTV, the City of Cambridge, and the cable provider are not responsible for the content of the programming shown on its channels, webstreams, VOD platforms, and social media. The responsibility and liability for such content lies solely with the person who submits the programming and signs the Program Distribution Agreement. CCTV, the City of Cambridge, and the cable provider assume that the producer or the person who submits the programming and signs the Program Distribution Agreement has obtained all releases, licenses, or other necessary clearances. The person who submits the programming may be asked to furnish proof that all releases, licenses, or other necessary clearances have been obtained.
6. I accept the responsibility and liability for content produced and/or submitted by me. I agree to hold harmless the cable provider, the City of Cambridge, CCTV, and CCTV's directors and employees (and their successors) from any liability, loss, claim, cost, or damage of any nature whatsoever which may arise by reason of any claim that any material produced or distributed by me infringes or violates any rights of any individual or organization.
